Teaching Philosophy

I subscribe to the traditional mentoring model, being that the class will have structure and outline, however much of what actually happens in the class I verbal, visual and hands on. Especially for the first generation of students who have agreed to enter this program at a time where many of my techniques are yet to be documented ~ these students will be living volumes of this work.

Class I

Advanced Hand Scanning Techniques, Vital Organs

Working with the basic hand scanning premise, we will scan and identify anatomical areas of distress and it's underlying source via the receiver of information through the hands. This establishes the range of treatment for the client session.

Note:

1. Students become familiar with basic anatomy as it relates to vital organs.
2. Students use their hands to access the health and distress of the area

Class II

Advanced Methods of Assessing Health and Distress, Vital Organs

Referencing actual physical structures, we become more specific in our assessment using our hands to receive energetic information, and setting the stage to begin invisioning vital organs and systems. Deeper and more specific work is done here.

Note:

1. Students begin receiving information through the hands at a higher level
2. Students intend to visualize with their hands

Class III

Comprehensive Exam and Assessment of Health, Vital Organs

A time to incorporate basic and advanced methods of hand scanning with visualization to further healing.

Note:

1. Students incorporate basic and advanced hand scanning to receive energetic information to further healing.
2. Students use hands to transfer healing information based upon the body's instructions; the healing ensues. Hands are used to assess the progress of the healing session, make necessary adjustments with transmission of energy, check ins with hands as energetic receptors and hands as visualizing tools.
